

Turkish Cookery

Sally Mustoe (ed.)

0 86356 072 5

Food & Drink

27 June 2006

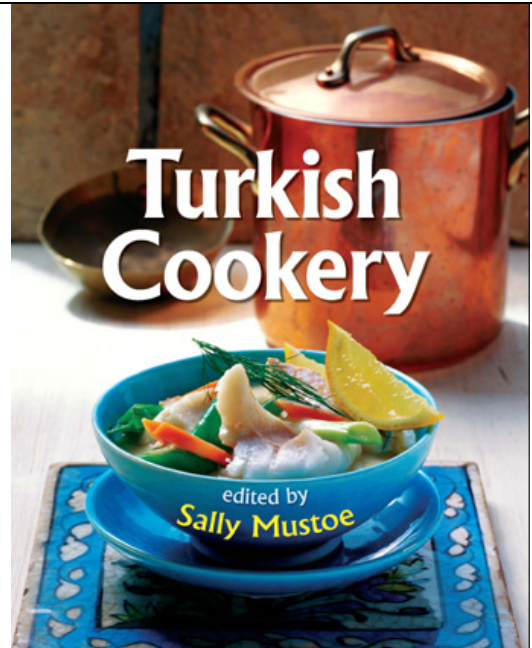

Hardback

22x28cm

196pp

£24.99

Colour photographs throughout

- Featuring favourite recipes from Nigella Lawson, Gary Rhodes, Claudia Roden, Nevin Halici, Ainsley Harriott, Anton Mosimann and Huseyin Ozer.
- Introduction by Raphaela Lewis; supporters include Boris Johnston and Andrew Mango
- Proceeds from sales will go towards providing further education for children orphaned by recent Turkish earthquakes

..

The Turkish palate has been refined since ancient times and counts amongst its influences the great empires of Byzantium and especially the Ottomans. Turkey's cuisine thus ranks with distinction alongside the world's grandest.

Sally Mustoe has amassed a collection of essays, anecdotes, illustrations and recipes from some of the most illustrious names in some of the most accomplished kitchens of the world..

Contributors include such experts on regional cuisine as restaurateur Hüseyin Özer of Sofra fame (on sweets); Nevin Halıcı (on a Konya wedding banquet); Osman Serim (on street food); Sami Zubaida (on market food); Mehmet Kurukahveciler (on coffee); Tugrul Savkay (on olive oil and breakfast); Berrin Torolsan (on spinach); Vefa Zat (on meze and raki); and many others. Essays include discussion of such food-related issues as musical accompaniment, eating and social relations and the effects of globalisation.

Sally Mustoe has worked extensively in print and broadcast journalism.